Payvision Joins ETA Expo

Leading International Payment Solutions Provider Exhibits in Las Vegas For First Time

Las Vegas, Nevada – April 15, 2008. Payvision, one of the leading international payment solutions providers, has joined the list of exhibitors at the 2008 ETA Annual Conference. It will be the first time for this Dutch company to participate in the world's largest electronic transaction forum.

Headquartered in Amsterdam with satellite offices in New York, Madrid and Singapore, Payvision offers a comprehensive suite of products and services for the card-not-present arena. Its core is built on multiple key components that include domestic global acquiring, multi-currency processing and alternative payment solutions. Payvision's multi-tiered platform offers flexible and feature-rich, streamlined solutions that can be deployed worldwide. At present, Payvision provides its domestic acquiring expertise to retail communities in over 40 countries.

"We are very pleased to be a part of this year's ETA annual conference," says Rudolf Booker, CEO of Payvision. "ETA is an outstanding association and as a member, we completely support its efforts to showcase global organizations. Our hope is to introduce American ISOs and acquirers to the unprecedented opportunities available now in the international marketplace."

Payvision will be located at Booth #702 and invites all attendees to stop by, meet its CEO Rudolf Booker and learn more about the exciting global transaction landscape.
