Payvision Returns to ETA Expo

Top Global Payment Solutions Provider to Showcase New Offerings

April, 2009 – Amsterdam, The Netherlands. Payvision, one of the leading international payLas Vegas, Nevada – April 19, 2009. Payvision, one of the leading international payment solutions providers, has once again joined the list of exhibitors at the 2009 ETA Annual Conference. Since introducing its comprehensive suite of products and services for the card-not-present arena to the American market at last year's meeting, Payvision has experienced unprecedented growth and expansion.

Headquartered in Amsterdam with satellite offices in New York, Boston, San Diego, Seattle, Madrid, London and Singapore, Payvision's core is built on multiple key components that include domestic global acquiring, multi-currency processing and alternative payment solutions. Payvision's multi-tiered platform offers flexible and feature-rich, stream-lined solutions that can be deployed worldwide. At present, Payvision provides its domestic acquiring expertise to retail communities in over 40 countries and 150 currencies.

"We are very excited to continue supporting the outstanding efforts of ETA to provide the industry with the latest and greatest in global processing," says Rudolf Booker, CEO of Payvision. "The American market realizes the necessity to look beyond its borders and Payvision has become the choice for many of the major organizations to help extend their footprint internationally."

This past year, Payvision has established an impressive roster of strategic alliances, including Trustwave, Plug'nPlay, Ezic, PAYON, Moneybookers, CardinalCommerce and Newtek Technologies—as well as receiving certification from Microsoft Vista for its Virtual POS Program.

Payvision will be located at Booth #911 in the ETA Exhibit Hall and invites all attendees to stop by, meet CEO Rudolf Booker and learn how Payvision is positively changing the global transaction landscape. In addition, Payvision will also be hosting a private reception at Eye Candy Lounge at Mandalay Bay Resort on Tuesday, April 21, from 10 pm to midnight. Please stop by the booth for a ticket to the party!
